New role at the IPA for Liz Bingham OBE MIPA

The IPA is pleased to announce that Liz Bingham OBE has agreed to join the Association’s team to assist Council and support the CEO, management team and staff. Liz’s role will be in part ambassadorial, and in part focussed on helping the IPA with its own strategic review and implementation of its IIP standards.

Liz most recently was Managing Partner to the UK & Ireland Leadership Team at EY with responsibility for the firm’s People Engagement and Development Strategy, having previously led EY’s restructuring practice. Liz is an IPA-licensed Insolvency Practitioner and former president of R3. Liz was awarded an OBE in 2015 for services to Equality in the Workplace and in 2016 was awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Laws by the University of Bath for her work in diversity in professional practices; these are just two of the many awards she has received during her career.

Ruth Duncan, IPA President, said “I am delighted to welcome Liz to the IPA and have no doubt that her experience, values and beliefs can only serve to strengthen our position in the industry.’

David Kerr, CEO, added “Liz brings a wealth of experience from her roles at EY and will be an asset to the Association. I look forward to working with Liz to further our ambitions as the specialist insolvency regulator.”

About the Insolvency Practitioners Association

The IPA is the only one of the recognised professional bodies specialising solely in insolvency. Its principal aim is to promote and maintain standards of performance and professional conduct amongst those engaged in insolvency practice. It is the second largest, in terms of the number of licensed insolvency practitioners (IPs), of the professional bodies recognised for the purposes of authorising IPs under the Insolvency Act 1986. The IPA currently regulates around 700 IPs in the UK, including those licensed by ACCA. You can find an IPA IP on its website:
